

Hartford HealthCare-Post University Higher Education Partnership Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Hartford HealthCare has partnered with Post University to offer you an opportunity to get started or complete your advanced education.

Q: What is the HHC-Post Higher Education Partnership?

A: This partnership offers you an opportunity to advance your education at a reduced cost. You have access to a wide range of classes and programs to pursue undergraduate and graduate certificates and degrees.

Q: What degree can I earn?

A: Post University offers a number of certificate and degree programs for personal and professional development. We offer associate, bachelor's, and master's degrees, as well as professional certificates in a wide range of industries.

Q: How much will it cost me?

A: Most programs come with a reduced tuition rate.

Q: Do I have time to go back to school?

A: Going back to school can be a big transition. The partnership with Post University offers:

- First-Year Experience Team – to help get you up and running
- Center for Academic Success – a resource to help with your studies
- Center for Career & Professional Development – a resource to help you make the most of your education and career

Q: Why did Hartford HealthCare choose to partner with Post University?

A: Since 1890, Post University has been making education personal. Here are a few of the resources we offer to help you be successful in and out of the classroom:

- One-on-one attention—small class sizes, industry experience instructors, and academic counselors
- Credit for prior learning—college credit for work and life experiences can help you graduate sooner
- Flexible learning environments—online, on-campus, or a blend of both
- Personalized programs—customize your education with electives and concentrations
- Career-relevant content—courses are regularly reviewed for their relevance to industry standards

Plus, Post University is regionally accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education!

Q: When can I start?

A: Post University offers six terms about every 8 weeks throughout the year, but you can get started today with an application. Connect with us and we will answer any questions you may have and walk you through the process.
