BACHELOR OF ARTS IN PSYCHOLOGY

BUILD YOUR FUTURE ON A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF THE MIND!

The Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Post University is designed to provide a foundational knowledge of the human-centered science of psychology. This program explores core areas of psychological study, including personality and abnormal psychology, child and adolescent development, societal and cultural influences, and much more. It is designed to help you prepare for relevant professional opportunities in mental health, social services, counseling, education, or business settings.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN PSYCHOLOGY

OFFERED ONLINE AND ON CAMPUS.

The BA in Psychology offers an understanding of the fundamentals of the field of psychology. It explores and examines essential questions concerning the human condition, including the experiential and biological factors that shape our mental processes and behaviors. The core curriculum for your 120-credit-hour program covers psychological development, multicultural psychology, social psychology, theories of personality, learning theory, abnormal psychology, neuropsychology, and more. In addition to these core psychological understandings, your program offers the opportunity to customize your education to your future goals with your choice of three concentration options, including:

- > Applied Behavior Analysis
- > Human Development, Education, and Health
- > Industrial/Organizational Psychology

Disclaimer: The Bachelor of Arts in Psychology degree is not designed to fulfill the educational requirements for any professional credential, such as licenses for clinical psychology or therapy.

Post UNIVERSITY® EST.1890

Your BHMT-Approved Education Provider

Post University is institutionally accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education (NECHE). The information printed in this material is accurate as of February 2024. For the most up-to-date information about admission requirements, tuition, scholarships, and more, visit Post.edu.